

MORNING APPEAL.

SUNDAY.....DECEMBER 19, 1889

CAUGHT AGAIN.

The Cooks—Seth and Dan—have been at their old tricks, milking the public with a fraudulent deal in Alta. The APPEAL, however, has no more sympathy with the public than respect for the Cooks. This is the third time that Alta has played its investors false and ruined a large number of people, that the already opulent Cooks might be further enriched. We have no patience with the asses which, when gathered together in a common braying herd, are by common consent called "the public." The Cooks have an exceptionally bad reputation, and are generally regarded as unscrupulous mining manipulators. They have made themselves rich out of that peculiar species of credulity which causes people to keep slaving their lives away and presenting the proceeds to stockbrokers and mining manipulators. In this respect the lower order of animals have a larger average of intelligence than man. A rat who has his tail caught in a trap steers clear of the trap for all time to come; a pig, supposed to contain only a teaspoonful of brains to a hog-head, will always avoid a yard where he has received a load of bird shot in his hide; but a man never displays any such reasoning powers. When the Cooks have engineered a deal in Alta by means of their hired cappers, stool-pigeons and whippers-in, it is a common thing to hear them denounced as thieves and rascals for a week or so afterwards, but the excitement soon dies out, and periodically the Alta deal again excites the market and the same parties who suffered before, rush in again. These deals come about once a year. They would come oftener but for the fact that the victims require about a year to get on their financial feet again. The Enterprise hints that shooting or hanging would be a good thing for the Cooks and their miserable crowd. We are more than surprised that the Enterprise should so suddenly advocate driving capitalists out of the country by such summary methods. The Cooks do not rob the people any more than a number of other institutions which might be named. Instead of employing the slow and easy processes of robbery, they make their grand grab all at once, so to speak, and curiously enough numbers of people get excited over it. Inside of twelve months the Cooks will start another deal, the press will announce that Alta is "a mine" and the same class of people which got nipped so recently will rush into the same trap again. The Enterprise would have done better work by following the APPEAL's example and warning the public to beware of danger. Its protest comes too late. If penitentiaries are wanted for such men as the Cooks, there is certainly more asylums needed for the people who invest in any mine in which the Cook crowd has the faintest shadow of an interest.

THOSE ESMERALDA OFFICERHOLDERS.—The Enterprise takes the following sensible view of the project of a number of Esmeralda officerholders to enrich themselves at public expense:

If the officers-elect were not satisfied with the statutory salaries, what did they run for the office for? There is nothing to compel them to take the positions, and if they don't like the terms they need not qualify.

The people of the State of Nevada are not in a temper to be dictated to by officerholders. Times are too hard and taxes are liable to be too high, and the officers elected at the last election, if they don't like the terms, have the privilege of declining acceptance.

The probabilities are that the next Legislature will pass a salary bill that will cut the wages of the officers elected in 1882 down to the standard earned by common miners, and that will be too much for men who spend the greater part of their time in loafing about the streets.

REBUKING THE PULPIT.—Bernhardt was assailed from the pulpit by a Boston divine and defended by one of the papers. The defence called forth the following letter:

Sir.—I receive your journal in which I find the unmanly sermon of the Rev. X— and your energetic reply.

I assure you that I am more touched by your impassioned defence than I was wounded by the insult.

I believe with all my soul that hypocrisy is the most cowardly of vices.

I have a child; I love him. The stones that they cast at me as I go along shall not hit his young head. I will guide him to the end, because that is my duty.

If when he was born I had strangled him and thrown him into the gutter, I should be at peace with society. But what would you have? I am so original that I prefer to be at peace with my conscience and with God.

SARAH BERNHARDT.

The Reno Gazette bemoans the fact that the Washoe Indians are without an agent or reservation. The Washoes who live in this section are not worrying a great deal over the fact that they are without an agent. They are simply envied by all of the rest of the red men of America.

There were twenty editorial paragraphs in the Enterprise yesterday on the Alta break, from which the public figure that the editor must have had twenty shares dumped on the market all at once.

All the Electoral votes are in except Oregon.

The Parisian editors are getting ready for a duel.

AFFAIRS IN IRELAND.

The landlords of Ireland who have been so relentless and oppressive to their poverty stricken tenants are now thoroughly frightened and fleeing the country. Victoria, the "Gracious Majesty," has ordered the land question of Ireland settled by force of arms. The Irish peasants had better die on the battle field than be starved to death by their relentless landlords, who take nearly all of the crops raised on the tenant's land as rental. The following, taken from the New York papers, by telegraph from Ireland and shows to what sad straits the people are reduced:

A sad and dramatic eviction took place in county Wicklow to-day. An old man named Arthur Kavanaugh, in feeble health, who had a cabin on the property of Earl Fitzwilliam, had fallen behind in his rent. A decree of ejectment was obtained by the Earl at the last Wicklow Sessions. His gamekeeper, with two bailiffs, went to execute the decree this afternoon. They had to carry Kavanaugh out of the house, and as he was crossing the threshold of his cabin the poor old man gave one gasp and expired in the gamekeeper's arms. His body was laid by the roadside. Over it for hours sat his only mourner, a granddaughter. Kavanaugh was formerly in a good position. He had been previously a carrier between Dublin and Wicklow. He has been unable to work for two years, and was bedridden for some time.

Another is a pen-picture of an Amazon: Miss Harriet Gardiner, of Farnhill, Killala, who was almost mobbed yesterday, in Ballina, and who intimidated the crowd by drawing a revolver, is considerably over fifty years of age and is an old maid of unprepossessing appearance and attire. She is a very masculine woman, rides and drives about like a man, hitching and unhitching her horse. She always goes armed and is a regular dare-devil. She goes out shooting with her dogs and jumps over bog holes like a boy. She inherited Farnhill from her mother, and drove her father, Major J. Gardiner, out of the place. She scarcely ever recognizes him or any of his children by his second wife. She lives a solitary life, surrounded by a queer household. She is a relentless woman with her tenants, and her pluck has hitherto enabled her to carry everything with a high hand.

TELEGRAPHIC.

At Buffalo, day before yesterday, a fire-story building was burned and fifteen lives lost.

Yesterday a body of Orangemen attended a Land League meeting in Ireland. The excitement is increasing.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 18.—In the Superior Court to-day the cases of larceny, etc. against expert Louis Kaplan were dismissed on account of informality in the indictments.

In the cases against Mayor Killoch, Auditor Dunn and City and County Attorney Murphy, for neglect of duty and misconduct in office, the defendant pleaded not guilty.

Sam C. Harding, a well-known local politician, died to-day.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

SHERIFF'S SALE.

BY VIRTUE OF AND IN PURSUANCE of two certain orders of sale issued separately and independent of each other. The first of said orders of sale issued out of the Second Judicial District Court of Nevada, in and for the County of Ormsby, on the 15th day of December, A. D. 1889, duly attested under the seal of said Court, on that day, and issued upon the final decree rendered and entered in said Court on the 3d day of September, A. D. 1889, in the suit for the foreclosure of Mortgage in said Court, entitled Trenmor Coffin, plaintiff, vs. Geo. L. Gibson and James E. Dealy, coparcners doing business under the firm name and style of Gibson & Dealy, and Geo. L. Gibson & Co., defendants, commanding me, among other things, to advertise and sell at public auction, in Ormsby County, Nevada, according to law, the property hereinafter described as consisting of a part of block number thirty-two (32) of Proctor & Green's Division of Carson City, Nevada, and out of the proceeds of said sale to retain my fees and disbursements, and pay to the plaintiff his costs of suit taxed at $27.00, and counsel fees allowed by said Court and fixed at $201.19, and interest at 10 per cent per annum until paid; and also to pay plaintiff the sum of $3522.78, with interest on the sum of $3,145.54 thereof at the rate of 12 per cent per month from September 1st, 1889, until paid, (the accruing costs upon said first order of sale now amount to $3.20). The second of said orders of sale issued out of said above named Court, on the 15th day of December, 1889, duly attested under the seal of said Court on said day, and issued upon the final decree made and rendered in said Court on the 15th day of December, 1889, in the suit for foreclosure of Mortgage in said Court, entitled Trenmor Coffin, plaintiff, vs. James E. Dealy and wife, defendants, commanding me, among other things, to advertise and sell at public auction, in Ormsby County, Nevada, according to law, all of the real estate hereinafter described, or so much thereof as may be necessary to realize the several amounts herein mentioned, and out of the proceeds of such sale to retain my costs, fees and disbursements, and to pay to said plaintiff the following amounts, to wit: his costs of suit taxed at $47.85 and $12.82 counsel fees for foreclosure, allowed by said Court with interest on said sum at the rate of 10 per cent per annum from Dec 12th, 1889, until paid; also the sum of $719.20, with interest on the sum $612.50 thereof, at the rate of 2 per cent per month from November 23d, 1889, until paid; all in U. S. gold coin (the accruing costs upon said second order of sale, now amounting to $6.29) I have levied upon and hereby advertise for sale the following described real estate, to wit: That certain piece or lot of land lying in and forming the southeast corner of block number thirty-two (32) of Proctor & Green's Division of Carson City, Ormsby County, Nevada, and bounded and described as follows: commencing at the intersection of the north line of Proctor street with the west line of Carson street, in said Carson City, Nevada, running thence north with west line of Carson street, thirty-four (34) feet and six (6) inches; thence west parallel with said north line of Carson street, eighty-one (81) feet; thence south parallel with west line of Carson street thirty-four (34) feet and six (6) inches to said north line of Proctor street; thence east along north line of Proctor street eighty-one (81) feet to the place of beginning. Also those certain lots of land adjoining said above described premises described as follows, to wit: Lots number seven (7) and ten (10) in said block number thirty-two (32) of said Proctor & Green's Division of said Carson City, Nevada, to, together with that portion of the alley in said block lying immediately east of said lots 7 and 10 in said block now occupied by defendants, J. E. Dealy and Geo. L. Gibson, the whole of said above described premises forming one contiguous tract with the west line of Carson street, in said Carson City, Nevada, known as and being lots seven (7) and ten (10), in block thirty-three (33) of Proctor & Green's Division of said Carson City; also that portion of said block thirty-three (33), which would constitute the alley in said block if said alley were opened, lying immediately east of said lots 7 and 10 in said block 32, now occupied by said James E. Dealy and wife.

And I will sell the same at public auction to the highest bidder for cash, in front of the Court House, in Carson City, Ormsby County, Nevada, at the hour of two o'clock P. M., on Saturday, January 5th, A. D. 1890.

And I will sell the land and premises above described in block 32 of Proctor & Green's Division of Carson City, in one lot or parcel, and the premises described in block 33 of said Division in one parcel, each independent of the other.

Or so much of the above described property will be sold, as stated above, as will be necessary to realize money sufficient to pay the sums and demands hereinbefore mentioned.

LLOYD HILL,
Sheriff of Ormsby County, Nevada.
